Bella in the books she was the most clumsy introvert, and Kristen played her for who she is. Great job :) Nevertheless... Kristen Stewart is one of the most talented actresses of our time, no matter how anyone says it, but this is a fact. And she could play anything, and play great, but in Twilight, she's just not an actress. She herself says that she does not like her face, but she did not manage to make it better in the book. Perhaps she could improve it in the film, but I could not see it.
