There are a lot of keystroke recorders and some of them are free, but most of them require that you register your operating system with their owners. KMM is free for 30 days, but we want you to have the best experience possible, so we hope that you will enjoy the advantages of our paid version!

KEYMACRO uses a hidden background window that is activated in the background of the other programs and captures all of the keystrokes. It will send all the information you type to us and generate a report for you, with some basic statistics about your typing habits. It is very easy to use. Just import your personal keyboard, choose a category (either to create a report about your typing habits or to define a macro for the programs that you use often) and start typing. Once you are done, you can edit the report and change the categories you want to add or remove. KMM can show you the command string that you are going to record, so you can choose the best option for your application. It is not necessary to enter the "Keyboard shortcut" option when defining macros. How to use

KEYMACRO: 1. Select "Import keyboards" from the main window. This option opens the "Import keyboards" window. 2. Click on the "Import" button, select the keyboard you want to use and click "Import". 3. The "Import" window will open, showing the keyboard that you just imported. Select the correct category and hit "OK". 4. In the "Define category" window, choose a category and click "OK".

5. Select your application from the list and click on "OK". 6. In the "Define action" window, type in the action you want to use. If you want to have the same actions to be recorded multiple times, add a number at the end of the text and, when you select it, the last value that you will use for the action will be displayed. 7. Click "OK" to save your macro definition. 8. The macro will appear in the main window. Click on the macro you want to use. 9. To play the macro, click on the keyboard shortcut that you want to use (in the "Keyboards" window). 10. IMPORTANT: Click "Close" on the "Keyboards" window to close it. Click on the "Import" button to hide the keyboards window. ImTOO B
