In the site i try to add facebook user-id to the array and the username. My controller : $http.post("", { user-id: me.facebookId }) .then(function (result) { var id = result.data.id; var username = result.data.username; var data = { id: me.facebookId, username: username }; console.log('id'+ id); //undefined console.log('username'+ username); //undefined console.log('data' + data); // undefined me.users.push(data); console.log(me.users); // undefined }, function (error) { alert(error); }); PS: for the full source code, please visit the site: A: You are trying to use me in an asynchronous environment, so me.users is undefined before you add the data to it. That means you need to make sure you have me.users before you run your function. a69d392a70
