The effects of monaural and binaural auditory exposure in noise on human observers' performance in an isolated word recognition task were investigated. In each trial, subjects heard a recognition probe word in the presence of a distractor word masked with a 60-dB noise. In the monaural exposure condition, the auditory exposure time was fixed at 1 s. In the binaural exposure condition, the auditory exposure time was fixed at 0.5 s, followed by the presentation of the masker for 0.

Lance Beggs is a fullÂ .After telling a Washington Post reporter he would "no longer" carry out President Trump's declaration of a national emergency at the southern border, Rep. Will Hurd, a Republican congressman from Texas, walked back his comments — and Democrats are blasting him for it. Hurd, who has been criticized by some in his party for openly criticizing the president, told The Post’s Ashley Parker in a podcast interview released Tuesday that he was referring to the policy as “a bad law that I will no longer defend.” “The president is not above the law,” Hurd told The Post. Later that day, however, Hurd backtracked. On Twitter, he wrote: “I misspoke yesterday. I was referring to the emergency declaration itself, not the policy it is implementing.” With just months before the midterm elections, Hurd has emerged as a frequent critic of the president. He once advocated for removing Trump from office. And he was one of two House members who voted against Trump’s 2018
