Q: Retrofit not getting search results from API I am trying to retrieve search results from API using Retrofit, but it gets stuck in onResponse method before it does anything else (displaying blank page on browser). And my Service code is as following:

```
@GET("api/questions/search/") Call> getSearchResults(@Query("q") String query); I am using Retrofit version: "2.3.0-beta1". And I have set Content-Type to application/json A: The problem was that I had to add, @Path("json") But in the question I had only specified @Query("q") String query; Q: Cannot reach the server I am writing a windows application, and I want to talk to my online client (made in C# and running in ASP.NET MVC). I have written 2 main classes (now I think that I should just make 1 main class that contains both pieces of code), and the connection works between them: whenever I type in the web page an item to change, it's added to the array in my c# program, which then sends it to my server. The problem is that I don't know what to do to make it work in case of unplugging the USB cable between them... Client (C#): private void btn_Send_Click(object sender, EventArgs e) { // array with words, values for each element are between 1 and 4 List words = new List { "hello", "world", "beautiful", "day", "night" }; string deviceId = Application.StartupPath; DeviceData device = new DeviceData(deviceId); string command = ""; // change the string value of the array // words[0] = "
