IV 12 Since the district court properly determined that 13 Garcia's claim was properly exhausted and he 14 did not forfeit that claim by not re-arraigning a second time, we affirm the 15 district court's denial of habeas relief. AFFIRMED. 16 HANSEN, Circuit Judge, concurring in part and dissenting in part. 17 I concur in the majority's conclusions that Garcia is not entitled to 18 habeas relief because there was no "deadlock" and because the state 19 did not deny Garcia due process by failing to make a timely motion to 20 rearraign. See Garcia v. Schriro, 613 F. Supp. 2d 976 (D. Ariz. 21 2007). I also agree with the majority's conclusion that the state courts 22 denied Garcia relief on the basis of an independent and adequate state 23 procedural rule. However, because I believe the state court also 24 misapplied the procedural rule, I would reverse the district court's 25 judgment and remand for the district court to enter summary judgment 26 for Garcia. 27 Procedural Rule 32.2. 28 The majority assumes that when a guilty plea is subsequently 29 withdrawn, 1 a second arraignment must be held to permit the state to 30 withdraw the plea. Garcia objected to that requirement in the 31 arraignment. The state then tried to correct any error by agreeing 32 with Garcia's objection. However, the state's "consent" to Garcia's 33 objection actually reiterated the requirement. Because the state's 34
