I am trying to get the history of the membership. It should show all the memberships that have had loans outstanding and a the one that is active. I am selecting only a particular membership number. E.G. (the example below is incorrect) SELECT [Master_NR_OF_BENEFICIARY] [Date_Took_Out], [Date_Assigned] FROM TMS_MSA_History WHERE [MSA_NUMBER] = 'S123' It should be returning two rows with a 1/2/12 for the first row and a 1/2/2015 for the second row. (this has been returned in one row as this is a much older log file) The second row is for a different membership number. The dates in the table are not inclusive, so it should be looking back to the last date a membership was assigned. Cheers. A: SELECT * FROM TMS_MSA_History WHERE MSA_NUMBER = 'S123' AND [Date_Took_Out] Abdelaziz Bouteflika's military-backed regime is a lame duck

Install the game Can pgp be used to notify admins when a user is about to activate an add-on on their work laptop? ----- Nate_UK Hilarious in light of the recent revelations about the NSA and GCHQ. ~~~ jt2190 My guess is that the NSA has had its mitts all over this decision. ----- deevus I'm not familiar with the details of the process, but when the NSA tells the FBI about a potential terrorist, is it customary for the FBI to ask, "What about me?" I'm a bit worried that they might be using this specific event to apply a 'sticky-list' of terrorists to the vast majority of computer and internet users. It's not an unreasonable question to ask, from a security perspective, but there's a very real risk that the people submitting suggestions on how to thwart would be at risk of being flagged as a potential terrorist. ~~~ jt2190 I'm a bit worried that they might be using this specific event to apply a 'sticky-list' of terrorists to the vast majority of computer and internet users. I'm a bit worried that they might be using this to apply a 'sticky-list' of cell phones to the vast majority of people. It is possible to keep lists of people who have some kind of connection to terrorist organizations, without applying those lists to all people. It might be possible to assemble these lists while keeping the number of false positives low. ~~~ deevus Agreed. If they just flag every gmail account for evil, all sorts of weird things are going to come up. There has to be a balance, and flagging every account for evil seems like a heavy handed approach. ~~~ jt2190 You're right, I think, with the caveat

What is "Elden Ring":

In the mythical legend of the Blood Rain, mankind as a single race has always been residing on the Earth and has always inevitably been ruled by the cruel and powerful Elves. But the Elves whose rule is secured by civilization have always harbored great envy of the Barbarian races. This mindset is the reason they destroyed the so called “Dead Islands” and the Human tribes living there. A period lasting 7 thousand years, when humanity lived like an animal until the current civilizations would emerge. “The Undead” was created from one
