ABKHAN STUDIOS I don't know how I didn't see this before, but if you've been following these updates you'll notice we've added in the dungeon crawler co-op to the game. It is a very early version, and we are still tweaking it, but nonetheless you'll be able to travel with another Dungeon Raider in your game. If you would like to try it out, or are looking to purchase, you can now! You can find it on our Steam store page. We have not yet added any of the cooperative gameplay mechanics, we will be doing that soon though! See you in the dungeon! ABKHAN STUDIOS Greetings, Raider! Congratulations for making it this far. If you wish to expand your experience, you may consider purchasing this update. ABKHAN STUDIOS It's that time again. The Dungeon Master himself, Amadeus, has left a note in the game to tell you that a new update is coming! You will all be happy to know that this time we finally added in multiplayer co-op to the game. On top of this we have a bug fix, a couple of new music tracks, some fresh monsters, and a new stream of content is planned for the launch of our next update in the coming months. If you wish to see this get added to your game today, you can purchase it here.
