A STUDIO JAPANER - GAMES THAT CREATE A WINNING WORLD Greetings to all of you, honored readers! The halfway point of the year is upon us; and with it, the anticipation of new games are gathering in the air. After such a long time since the debut of the original VRMMO game, .Hack//G.U., it's finally time to introduce this year's new fantasy action RPG that comes from Studio Ghibli to the fans of the title, in the form of .Hack//G.U. NEXT. The fantasy action RPG with world exploration and character growth is the first otome game developed by Studio Ghibli. It is .Hack//G.U.'s successor! It offers a dynamic online environment with characters from a variety of backgrounds, and adds story that will leave players of all ages thoroughly satisfied. It's a new experience that will push players to immerse themselves in the story, using "FRUSTRATING" (the new action RPG way of saying "difficult") to their full potential. Presented in the simple stylish, good-looking art style of Studio Ghibli, the world is divided into "Areas Between" that are connected via the "Cradle". As the main protagonist, you'll explore and fight monsters in the "Lands Between", gradually gaining experience to strengthen yourself, along with continuing quests. You'll take a variety of roles as the protagonist goes through the struggles, challenges, and hardships of new life while strengthening yourself in the process. With new locations to explore and monsters to fight, you'll have to overcome every obstacle as you accept a challenge greater than yourself... "Is .Hack//G.U. Next Just Another .Hack?" (We at Studio Ghibli are from a different generation, so we're not familiar with otome. As such, the 1st version of .Hack//G.U. will be receiving a new title after all. With that said, we've been hard at work on what will be .Hack//G.U. Next since April, and here we're finally able to present a brand new improved version of the game for > Game Impacts On Your Life I bought the game as a gift for my girlfriend last Christmas, and it has been in her bag every day for over a month now. There are times that I come home and I am able to tell that she got at least an hour or two of play time in. Every time we play together, I always ask her about what happened when we last played. Even if we haven't played together in days, she always remembers the events from that day. The nostalgia is almost too much sometimes. > A Well Balanced Game My girlfriend absolutely loves this game. She has made a pact with me to play it together once a week, and every time we play she has fun and comes home with the passion that I want to give her. > The Best Game of This Season Even though I am not exactly a fan of strategy, this game is so good that I am dying to play it constantly. It is so fun and enjoyable to play that I am having trouble waiting for the next time that I can play together with her. > Highly Recommended When I got this game, I had a load of money on my card and I was very excited to get the chance to give it to someone. Looking back on that time, I realized that it was the happiest time of my life. The game has opened up a world for my girlfriend and me. We have been playing for over two months and we are still going strong. We have found so many things that we can do together and it is an absolutely magical experience.
